

Robert Esser biography

Robert Esser recently retired after 20 years as a Senior Consultant and Director for IHS CERA (formerly Cambridge Energy Research Associates). He was responsible for long range global oil and gas capacity forecasts.

IHS is the leading source of information and insight in critical areas that shape today's business landscape, including energy and power; design and supply chain; defense, risk and security; environmental, health and safety (EHS) and sustainability; country and industry forecasting; and commodities, pricing and cost. IHS has been in business since 1959 and became a publicly traded company on the New York Stock Exchange in 2005. Headquartered in Englewood, Colorado, USA, IHS employs approximately 5,100 people in more than 30 countries around the world.

Esser's prior employment was as a geologist and energy resource consultant at Mobil Corporation for 30 years. He has been a member of AAPG since 1961. He holds a BS and MS in Geology from Yale University and Stanford University. He currently resides in Huntington, New York.