

Inspiring Future Geologists

Outreach to students from kindergarten through high school is one of the top areas of interest for AAPG members. The AAPG Foundation has been a strong proponent of K-12 activities and recognizes the importance of addressing the issues related to youth science education while influencing young students' knowledge of earth sciences and energy issues.

Currently, the AAPG Foundation provides support to successfully established programs, such as Earth Science Week, More! Rocks in your Head workshops and the Bookout Initiative.

NOW is the time to expand the K-12 Education programs! Your involvement is essential to increase outreach and awaken young students' appreciation of geosciences and energy.

How can YOU help?
