

2012 AAPG TEACHERS PROGRAM AT ACE

April 23, 2012

The American Association of Petroleum Geologists invites K-12 science teachers to join us in exploring new methods and technologies to teach the Earth Science Curriculum to their students. The program will include:

- Presentations of the latest technologies to teach students the basic concepts of geology and how to use the internet to introduce students to field work. Presenters will include: Dr. Tanya Atwater, Professor Emeritus, UCSB; Sharon Milito, 2011 AAPG Teacher of the Year; Wendy Van Norden, Harvard-Westlake High School, Dr. Robert Negrini, Professor at CSUB
- Classroom materials to assist you in applying these techniques.
- Luncheon with guest speaker.
- Guided tour of the convention exhibit hall with an industry professional guide.
